

RDI.
Inspired living

I was born in what was then the Soviet Union. My parents worked in the engineering industry and I studied at the Moscow Institute of Physics and Technology. Together with Anvar Kalimov, my fellow student and current business partner, I learned my first income working at summer jobs in the alpine construction industry. Design and construction have always been close to my heart.

When conditions became favourable for business in the country, my aim was clear: I wanted to play a role in building the new Russia. To me, real estate development means creating something of value – for the many rather than the few. Creating new living conditions involves more than constructing housing – it means creating space in which one can truly live. This is my ambition.

My interest and involvement in the arts has also been incorporated into my work. This interest was purely personal at first. But I very rapidly discovered that art is enormously enriching, offering glimpses of the future. Artists are able to express so many desires, hopes and dreams. We regard our involvement in the arts as a means of bringing a little of tomorrow into today's world. Discover the RDI World, our Company and our projects, on the next few pages.

Working through two divisions - RDI Culture and RDI Development - and inspired by contemporary art and international architecture, RDI creates bold new residential areas based on the principles of the new urbanism to provide suitable space for contemporary living. We do not stop at constructing and implementing our development projects, but feel we must also establish auxiliary businesses to support high-quality living.

Our unique asset portfolio allows us to specialise in contemporary development projects across all segments of the real estate market and foster unique architectural designs and innovative construction technologies. TWO COMPLEMENTARY DIVISIONS
RDI CULTURE &
RDI DEVELOPMENT

Inspired living means developing real estate that satisfies the urge to live well and makes living more fun.

We work through two complementary divisions - RDI Culture and RDI Development - to achieve this. Together we are more than the sum of our parts. RDI Culture and RDI Development work together to find new solutions to the many challenges of modern life. This allows us to create better, more rewarding and sustainable living environments for Russia's new middle class.

RDI CULTURE

RDI Culture is our window into the future. RDI Culture builds the bridge between future hopes and expectations and today's reality. We acquire knowledge about the trends and demands of modern life through dialogue with our customers, architects and designers, and incorporate new ideas into our daily work.

CREATING

MODERN TOWNS
CITIES
AND NEIGHBOURHOODS

CREATING MODERN TOWNS, CITIES AND NEIGHBOURHOODS WITH SUITABLE AND FULLY FUNCTIONAL INFRASTRUCTURE

COMFORTABLE

A key feature of RDI developments is that the schools, cultural facilities, day care centres, shops, cafes, restaurants and other necessary facilities are located within a short walking distance from home. This ensures a high level of comfort and convenience for residents.

SIMPLE

We believe that the simple approach is almost always the right one, and are guided by this axiom in all our architectural and planning decisions and in determining development strategy.

GREEN

Translated from the Ancient Greek, 'ecology' means 'science of the house and home'. We bear this in mind in our business with individuals and entire neighbourhoods.

SAFE

Our projects are guided by an understanding that there is nothing more important than the safety of one's nearest and dearest.

ACCESSIBLE

We aim to make our property, products and services accessible to the widest range of customers.

ACTIVE HOUSE

Green. Innovative. Efficient.

With an area of 230 sq. m., Active House is the first such project in Russia. Here energy efficiency, comfortable living and aesthetics are not in conflict but constitute aspects of a single integrated system of complementary elements. It is a system that is usually called a “green house” with completely eco-friendly engineering systems and construction materials.

It was inspired by the izba, the traditional Russian country home: The large porch and balcony, A-frame and traditional chimney are borrowed from the izba but all have a modern and very stylish look. This energy-efficient building was developed by RDI. The VELUX solar panels installed on the pitched roof generate energy and transmit it to heat the living space. Each room is equipped with a temperature sensor, humidity sensor and CO2 sensor. Active House is a very forward-looking and innovative product, which will surely set new standards for comfortable living in Russia.

His Royal Highness the Crown Prince Frederik of Denmark participated in the official opening of the house and together with the partners behind the project and Russian officials, he cut the ribbon.
